(57) CLAIM

The ornamental design for an apparatus for doctors, hospitals, and laboratories, as shown and described.

DESCRIPTION

FIG. 1 is a top front perspective view of the apparatus for doctors, hospitals, and laboratories, including a top unit, a base unit and a work plane positioned at a heightened or high position.

FIG. 2 is a front elevation view of the apparatus for doctors, hospitals, and laboratories, illustrated in FIG. 1.

FIG. 3 is a side elevation view of the apparatus for doctors, hospitals, and laboratories, illustrated in FIG. 1.

FIG. 4 is a top perspective view of the base unit of the apparatus for doctors, hospitals, and laboratories, illustrated in FIG. 1; shown independent of the top unit, and with the work plane in a recessed or low position.

FIG. 5 is a top perspective view of the base unit of the
apparatus for doctors, hospitals, and laboratories, illustrated
work plane removed from the base; and,

FIG. 6 is a top perspective view of the base unit of the
apparatus for doctors, hospitals, and laboratories, illustrated
work plane positioned at a heightened or high position.

The designations of the views below as top, side, and front are for ease of discussion only and are not intended to limit the apparatus for doctors, hospitals, and laboratories to one particular orientation. The apparatus for doctors, hospitals, and laboratories can be oriented in other directions which would alter these designations. The drawings illustrated in FIGS. 1-6 are not necessarily drawn to the same scale, and any change in scale between different views is not intended limit the apparatus for doctors, hospitals, and laboratories to a particular size.

The exemplary apparatus for doctors, hospitals, and laboratories is formed of or comprises a plastic material.
